academic degrees

Lowercase degree if it is followed by the area of focus. For instance: "a master's degree in criminal justice." If it does not follow the area of focus, capitalize the degree. For instance: Master of Science.

ACAMS

Just ACAMS, do not spell out acronym.

ACAMS Advanced AML Audit Certification (CAMS-Audit)

ACAMS Advanced Financial Crimes Investigations Certification (CAMS-FCI)

acknowledgment

acronym

Acronyms should be defined. Format: Term spelled out (acronym in parenthesis). Do not place the acronym in quotations. Your article should continue to use only the acronym, once the term is already first introduced. Do not add an acronym in parenthesis if the term is only used once in an article. Do not spell out an acronym used in the article headline or subheadings. For social media copy, do not spell out acronyms.

Act

Capitalize act when it is part of the name for a pending or implemented legislation: the Taft-Hartley Act.

aka

anti-financial crime (AFC)

anti-money laundering/Bank Secrecy Act (AML/BSA)

Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2020 (AMLA)

Spell out upon first reference. Each directive can be abbreviated upon second reference. For example: "The European Union's Fifth Anti-Money Laundering Directive (5AMLD)" apostrophe (')

PLURAL NOUNS NOT ENDING IN S: The alumni's contributions, women's rights.

PLURAL NOUNS ENDING IN S: Add only an apostrophe: the churches' needs, the girls' toys, the horses' food, etc.

NOUNS PLURAL IN FORM, SINGULAR IN MEANING: Only add an apostrophe: General Motors' profits, the United States' wealth, etc.

SINGULAR NOUNS NOT ENDING IN S: Add 's. The church's needs, the girl's toys, the horse's food, the ship's route, the VIP's seat.

SINGULAR PROPER NAMES ENDING IN S: Only add an apostrophe: Achilles' heel, Agnes' book, Hercules' labors, Moses' law.

application programming interface (API)

Asian, Asiatic

Use Asian or Asians when referring to people. Some Asians regard Asiatic as offensive when applied to people.

Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre (AUSTRAC)

Awards

Capitalize and italicize award names. For instance: ACAMS Today Article of the Year Award.

B

Bank Secrecy Act (BSA)

Bible

Capitalize, without quotation marks. Lowercase bible as a nonreligious term: My dictionary is my bible.

Bitcoin

Capitalize when referring to Bitcoin as a system, but lowercase when referring to its use as a form of payment. The government wants to regulate Bitcoin. He bought a vacuum cleaner online using bitcoins.

Black Market Peso Exchange (BMPE)

box-ticking

brackets

Square brackets should be used for interpolations in direct quotations: "Let them [the poor] eat cake." They may also be used to break up a point within a parenthesis.

bullet points

If the bullet point is a complete sentence, end it in a period and capitalize the first letter of the first word. If it is a fragment, capitalize the first letter of the first word but do not end it with a period.

bureau

Capitalize when part of a formal name for an organization or agency (ex., the Bureau of Labor Statistics). Lowercase when used alone.

bylawbyline

Bylines are placed at the end of the article. They should be written as follows:

- Print: first name and last name, CAMS (if you have this designation), title, company, state or province (abbreviation), country, email address, Twitter and/or Instagram.
- Online: first name and last name, CAMS (if you have this designation), title, company, state or province (abbreviation), country, email address, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn.

colon

Capitalize the first word after a colon if it is a proper noun or the start of a complete sentence. (Ex., "He promised this: The company will make good all the losses," or "There were three considerations: expense, time and feasibility").

comma

Do not add a comma before the concluding conjunction. For instance: "I have a dog, cat, bird, rabbit and a duck."

committee

Capitalize when part of a formal name: the House Appropriation Committee. Do not capitalize committee in shortened versions of long committee names, for example: the appropriation committee.

composition titles

Italicize all magazines, newspapers, reference books, books, films, TV shows, art, speeches, conferences, etc. Article titles and thesis titles should be in quotes. For names of laws, capitalize all words in a title except articles.

Congress

contractions

Do not use contractions. For instance, spell out the words: can't, don't, won't, haven't, etc. Only use contractions if there is a contraction within a quote used.

Corporate Transparency Act (CTA)counter-terrorist financing (CTF)

Use counter-terrorist financing (CTF) or combating the financing of terrorism (CFT).

Criminal Law Directive

Directive on combating money laundering by criminal law EU 1673/2018, frequently referred to in the industry as the 6AMLD.

crowdfundingcrowdsourcing*crypto-assets*crypto finance*cryptocurrency*currency

Use the $ sign to report U.S. dollar amounts. For all other currencies, spell out the name of the currency in parentheses followed by the equivalent in U.S. dollars. For instance: "Japan approved a 1.8 trillion yen ($18 billion) extra..." When it comes to euros, write out "euros" instead of the euro symbol. When dealing with a dollar currency of a country other than the U.S., use the following abbreviations before the amount: AU$ (Australian dollars), CA$ (Canadian dollars), SG$ (Singapore dollars), NZ$ (New Zealand dollars), HK$ (Hong Kong dollars), NT$ (New Taiwan dollars), ZW$ (Zimbabwe dollars).

The acronym is acceptable for all references to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

nerve-wrackingnoncompliance*non-fungible tokens (NFTs)*nongovernmental*nonprofit*nonresident

numbers

Everything lower than 10 is spelled out. However, when starting a sentence with a number, the number should always be spelled out.

OFAC's 50 Percent Rule

OFAC's 50 Percent Rule: When using the proper name, we will capitalize Percent and Rule and spell out percent. When using only 50 percent, we will still spell out percent but lowercase the p.

Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC)

old-fashioned organizations and institutions

Capitalize the full names of organizations and institutions: the American Medical Association; First Presbyterian Church; General Motors Co.; Harvard University, Harvard University Medical School; the Procrastinators Club; the Society of Professional Journalists.

Retain capitalization if Co., Corp. or a similar word is deleted from the full proper name: General Motors.

Subsidiaries: Capitalize the names of major subdivisions: the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors.

Internal elements: Use lowercase for internal elements of an organization when they have names that are widely used generic terms: the board of directors of General Motors, the board of trustees of Columbia University, the history department of Harvard University, the sports department of the Daily Citizen-Leader.

Capitalize internal elements of an organization when they have names that are not widely used generic terms: the General Assembly of the World Council of Churches, the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association, the House of Bishops and House of Deputies of the Episcopal Church.

Flip-flopped names: Retain capital letters when commonly accepted practice flops a name to delete the word of: Harvard School of Dental Medicine, Harvard Dental School. Do not, however, flop formal names that are known to the public with the word of: Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for example, not Massachusetts Technology Institute.

parentheses

When introducing a shortened form of a name, there is no need to use parentheses. Just use the shortened form on later references. For example, refer to Chase Bank as just Chase after the first reference.

passport

pastor

Lowercase "pastor." Do not use pastor before an individual's name. However, if it appears before a name in a quotation, capitalize it.

people/persons

Unless it is a direct quote, always use people instead of persons, except in the case of politically exposed persons.

percentage

When writing percentages, write the number and use the percent symbol, with no space. For example: 10%.

podcasts

Place quotation marks around podcast titles. For instance, listen to Kieran Beer's podcast, "Financial Crime Matters."

policymakers politically exposed person (PEP)

When referencing several, use politically exposed persons.

prefixes

Generally, we do not hyphenate when using a prefix with a word starting with a consonant. But there are exceptions. Three rules are constant:

- Use a hyphen if the prefix ends in a vowel and the word that follows begins with the same vowel. Exceptions: cooperate, coordinate, and double-e combinations such as preestablish, preeminent, preeclampsia, preempt.
- Use a hyphen if the word that follows is capitalized.
- Use a hyphen to join doubled prefixes: sub-subparagraph.
